

WHY DON'T YOU TAKE BETTER CARE OF YOUR HAIR!

Don't let it turn grey. Don't let the Dandruff get a foothold and start the hair falling out.

It's not natural that young women should have thin grey hair that they cannot dress becomingly.

It should always be natural-colored-luxuriant—full of life and radiance—free from ugly grey hairs and annoying Dandruff.

Nature intended that a woman's hair should be one of her chief attractions.

Why not help her to keep it so?

JEWISH HOLIDAYS.

Many Days of Festivities are Scheduled for the Next Few Months.

According to the Jewish ritual, the year which began on September 12 is the 5,673d since the creation of the world. Rosh Hashonah, the first day of the new year, marks the beginning of the long list of Jewish fast and feast days and calendars have already been prepared and circulated among the Jewish people to how on which of the English dates the principal religious holidays will fall during the year 5,673.

Leap Year.

The principal fact about the year 5,673 is that it is a Leap Year, of thirteen months, 384 days, 55 Sabbaths. In this year there is an extra month, that of 2d Adar, a month of twenty-eight days. According to the Jewish ritual, it is the eleventh year of the 299th lunar cycle of 19 years, and the nineteenth year of the 203d solar cycle of 28 years since its creation. The month of 2d Adar is interspersed periodically in the year to maintain the relation of the Jewish months, which are strictly lunar, to the solar year.

Names of Jewish Months.

The names of the Jewish months are naturally in Hebrew and most of them may be found in the Bible. They begin with Tishri, which covers the second half of September and the first half of October, and run as follows: Tishri, September-October; Heshvan, or Marchesvan, October-November; Kislev, or Chislev, November-December; Tebeth, December-January; Shebat, January-February; 1st Adar, February-March; 2d Adar, March-April; Nisan, April-May; Iyar, May-June; Sivan, June-July; Tamuz, July-August; Ab, August (one day in September this year); Ellul, September, one day in October this year. This is the comparison for the present year, but as it is a Leap Year, with an extra month, the calculations would be somewhat different for an ordinary year.

Yom Kippur.

The principal holidays of the year began with Rosh Hashonah, New Year's Day, on September 12. Yesterday was a minor fast, the Fast of Gedalia, for the assassination of the leader of that name. The holiest day of the Jewish year will come next Saturday, September 21, which is Yom Kippur, the Holy Day, the Day of Atonement, when all Jews are commanded to fast the entire day and to devote the day to prayer and devotion. It is the day on which the Jew attempts propitiation and atonement for the sins of the past year and tries to cleanse his heart by religious devotion. The fast is of great antiquity and is given much space in Leviticus 16, 1 to 34; 23, 26-32; and Numbers, 27, 7-11. It is considered the culmination of the Jewish expiatory ceremonial, and the ideal expression of Israel's religion.

Feast of Tabernacles.

The Feast of Tabernacles, which occurs this year on September 26, is prescribed in many places in the Bible, notably in Exodus, Deuteronomy, Exegiel, Leviticus and Numbers. It is a harvest feast and is said to have been the greatest of the Hebrews' feasts in Biblical times. It is termed the Feast of Ingathering, and the Feast of Booths and lasts eight days, the eighth day having a ritual of its own with the name Shmini Asereth. The day is to celebrate the gathering of the harvest and was originally of a baccchanalian character. It has never entirely lost its joyful character, even though few of the seremonies practiced in prophetic days are now observed.

MONEY BACK CATTARRH REMEDY

Dosing the stomach won't kill Catarrh germs. Neither will sprays, douches, snuffs, or ointments.

The quickest way to kill germs is to breathe deep into the lungs the vaporized air of Booth's HYOMEI.

As this antiseptic air passes over the sore spots infested with Catarrh germs, it not only destroys them, but heals the inflamed membrane and stops the discharge of mucus.

Then hawking, spitting, snuffing, crusts in nose and foul breath will disappear, and vile, disgusting Catarrh will be conquered.

A complete HYOMEI outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler, only costs $1.00. Extra bottles, if afterwards needed, 50c; and Laurens Drug Co. is authorized to refund your money if dissatisfied.

Card of Thanks.

To the Voters of Laurens Township: I wish to take this method of publicly thanking the voters of Laurens Township, for the handsome vote accorded me both in the First and Second primaries in the race for magistrate. I shall always remember your support and especially your many acts of kindnesses with the greatest of pleasure.

Very truly yours, R. H. Donaldson.

GIBRALTAR NEVER IS ASLEEP

Guns of the Great Fortress Are Kept Trained Constantly on the Surrounding Waters.

While it has always been known that Gibraltar, which belongs to Great Britain, is one of the world's strongest forts for both defense and offense, it seems incredible that an immense fleet could be sent to the bottom before getting within five miles of Gibraltar. Not even a torpedo boat could succeed in entering the bay unobserved on the blackest night. The most eminent naval experts are of the opinion that this world's greatest fortress is almost impregnable.

Gibraltar never sleeps. By day and night two perfectly equipped signal stations, proudly flaunting Britain's flag of ownership, sweep the seas around to a distance of 15 miles on a clear day, instantly reporting the coming and going of each vessel.

Modern "needle" guns, the finest in Europe, are installed on all the most prominent points. They are unreachably from the sea, even as they are indiscernible, owing to the skill with which they are planted and draped to match the surrounding vegetation, while huge screens drop automatically before them as each shell is fired. They have a range of 15 miles and could drop shells on Ceuta, in Africa, opposite, quite comfortably.

One gun weighs 110 tons and is capable of throwing a shell weighing three-quarters of a ton. In that marvel of engineering under great difficulties, the galleries, are concealed guns for every day in the year.

These galleries are divided into three sections, entry to which is guarded, while one is closed even to high officers, containing preserved stores, munitions of war, rain water (for Gibraltar has no springs) and a complete condensing plant—all calculated to outlast a siege of seven years.

The firing is the most mathematically perfect imaginable. The surrounding waters are mapped out into squares, upon which certain guns are kept ready trained, so that it is almost impossible to miss.

Stumbled on Vein of Gold.

For seven pesos or about $2.55 a poor Chilean bought a few weeks ago the foundation of an old house in Putu near Constitution, relates the New York Sun. As the man grubbed out the stones from the earth his attention was attracted to the yellow specks in one of them. He found it contained an extraordinarily large proportion of gold. He inquired as to whence the stones originally came and finally traced them to a hill in the vicinity. There he found in the slope a vein of gold-bearing rock, from a small portion of which in the course of a week's work he and a couple of friends extracted $75,000 worth of gold. A company has now been formed with a capital of $100,000 to open up the vein and determine its true value.

Ruskin as a Grocer.

Ruskin was once a grocer. In 1874 he opened a shop in Paddington street, Notting Hill, in order, as he announced, "to supply the poor with pure tea in packets as small as they choose to buy, without making a profit on the subdivision, larger orders being, of course, equally acceptable from anybody who cares to promote honest dealing." The shop did not attract, Ruskin complained in "Fors Clavigera" that "the poor only like to buy their tea where it is brilliantly lighted and eloquently ticketed; and as I resolutely refuse to compete with my neighboring tradesmen, either in gas or rhetoric, the patient subdivision of my parcels passes little recognized as an advantage by my uncalculating public." The shop soon closed down, and the grocery trade lost the most distinguished representative it is ever likely to possess.—London Chronicle.

WHY SHE DIDN'T WIN.

They were at Monte Carlo, and, like other visitors to that insidious paradise, they considered the Casino a place which ought to be visited. They stood hesitating before one of the tables, and at last the temptation to join the players proved too strong for the lady.

"I must risk just one ten-dollar note," she said to her husband. "Give me one, darling, and I will put it on the number of my age. That is sure to be lucky."

Hubby was inclined to be skeptical, but of course he might have spared himself the trouble of grumbling, and the ten-dollar note was duly deposited on No. 24.

Alas! No. 36 proved to be the winning numeral, and the lady gave a little gasp of despair.

"Serves you right," said her great brute of a husband. "If you'd told the truth you'd have won!"—Tid-Bits.

Damning With False Praise. William Dean Howells, the author, was talking about a criticism that praised him almost fulsomely.

"I don't quite like such indiscriminate praise," he said. "Such praise does a man more harm than good. It is like the enthusiastic policeman's remark about the genial new mayor."

"Oh, he's a fine feller," the policeman said. "Why, it don't matter who ye are, he'll get drunk with ye."
